CONFIDENTIALITY: All information disclosed during treatment is confidential and may not be revealed to anyone without written permission except where disclosure is required by law. Disclosure may be required in the following circumstances: where there is a reasonable suspicion of child abuse or elder physical abuse, where there is a reasonable suspicion that the patient presents a danger of violence to others or where the patient is likely to harm himself or herself unless protective measures are taken. Disclosure may also be required pursuant to legal proceedings. Threats communicated to family members that are then communicated to me may give rise to the duty to warn.

PAYMENT FOR SERVICE: You are expected to pay for services at the time they are rendered unless other arrangements have been made. In instances where extraordinary professional time is required, you may incur additional fees. INSURANCE REIMBURSEMENT: Patients who carry insurance should remember that professional services are rendered and charged to the patient and not to the insurance company. We will give you a receipt that you can submit to your insurance company for reimbursement. If your insurance company has forms for the doctor to complete, be certain to bring them in at your earliest convenience. Managed care insurance coverage does vary.
